Dillon, S. C., February 17, 1910.

The increased cost of living has no terrors for the man who raises plenty of hog and hominy.

The present session of the general assembly has distinguished itself by the number of measures it didn't pass.

Don't let the length of the "announcement column" worry you, Mr. Candidate. There is safety in the multitude.

The medical fraternity of a Western metropolis has found that man is healthier without meat. This is another way of making a virtue of necessity.

It's all right to keep politics out of the census, but if the politicians are kept out the enumerators in Dillon county will have to look elsewhere for a job.

About a twelve months since we heard that the Pullman Company was contemplating quoting a lower rate for upper berths, but the facts that followed were the quotations for an upper rate for lower berths.

The News and Courier's paragraph writer says "the stopper came out of the thermos bottle yesterday and one could almost feel that the summer birds had come again." All of which leads us to believe that the stopper must have come out of some other bottle, also.

The Senate judiciary committee does Dr. Babcock an injustice by asking the senate to request his resignation. Dr. Babcock is no more responsible for the deplorable conditions at the asylum than is that body known as the general assembly of South Carolina and any attempt to make a scape goat of Dr. Babcock, who has rendered long and faithful service at the asylum, should meet with resentment from the fair-minded citizens of the State. Time and again Dr. Babcock's requests to the general assembly for an appropriation for adequate improvement at the institution have been ignored by the general assembly, while Clemson and Winthrop and the Citadel have prospered and fattened at the expense of the tax payers. Dr. Babcock did the best he could under circumstances which long ago would have forced the resignation of any man without some love of humanity in his heart, and the attempt of the senate judiciary to make him a victim of circumstances due entirely to the negligence and indifference of others is unworthy of the several very excellent gentlemen who compose the senate's most distinguished committee.

The Coast Line proposes to relieve the congestion of traffic between Florence and Pee Dee by the construction of a double track from the river to Florence. Of course the double track will not be laid across the river as that would call for quite an expenditure of money, but work has already begun on the other side of the river and before many days trains will be running over the new track. Heretofore the single track has been able to take care of the traffic over the two lines leading into Pee Dee, but the volume of business is increasing so rapidly that now a double track has become a necessity. The Coast Line has also authorized a bond issue of several million dollars for the construction of a double track from Richmond to Florence and it is probable that operations will begin before the present year expires. The double track extends out from Richmond now to Elm City, a distance of about 50 miles.

The South Carolina Supreme courts decision in the R. B. Tillman, Jr., case was rendered Tuesday, awarding the children to their mother.

Senator Montgomery has introduced a bill authorizing an election upon the question of issuing bonds to the amount of $100,000 for road improvements in Marion county. The election will be held some time this year, and the money will be expended by a commission to be appointed by the governor.

NEW YORK!

By universal acknowledgement New York is the cradle and nursery of fashions for men. In that world city—agog with life and throbbing like a mighty engine—the mode is formed, New York sets the final seal of approval upon a fashion and from that decision their is no appeal.

We are situated in very heart of the new county seat, next door to the Southern Loan & Trust Co.

No sooner is a mode fixed than we adopt it. Not a change in cut, not a deviation in collar or lapel, not the addition or subtraction of a button escapes us. Intimate relationship with the sources of fashions enables us to give our customers the freshest and most authoritative styles, the instant they have received the endorsement of the tailors who serve the club and college set.

In fact through our sixteen year tailoring career we render it possible for the stranger, uncounted miles away, to follow with absolute fidelity the styles declared to be authoritative in the undisputed center of wealth and fashion—NEW YORK.
